1. GENERAL INFORMATION

- Morocco has many bilateral or multilateral agreements with many countries around the world that eliminate visa requirements, and those nationals can enter Morocco without a visa.
- It is critical that the forms provided at the country's entry and exit points are correctly and completely filled out. The importation or removal of undeclared foreign currency worth 100,000 Dirhams (approximately 9,000 Euros) or more into Morocco is prohibited. Every day of the week, there are reciprocal airline flights between Istanbul and Casablanca.
- The next page lists the countries that are eligible for visa-free entry into Morocco for 90 days in a 180-day period.
