PRINCES' ISLANDS

An archipelago off the coast of Istanbul, in the Sea of Marmara

The islands consist of four larger islands; Büyükada, Heybeliada, Burgazada, Kınalıada. During the spring months, the Princes' Islands are popular destinations for day trips from Istanbul. As there is almost no motor traffic on the Islands, the only transport being bicycles they are more peaceful than the city of Istanbul. They are just a short ferry ride from Istanbul, with ferries departing from both Asian and European sides. In Büyükada, you can visit historical structures such as the Greek Orthodox Orphanage (the largest wooden building in Europe) and Hagios Georgios Church.
